Sherry Becker is a Financial Advisor with Waddell & Reed. As a financial advisor Sherry's mission is to help people get more out of their money, take the guess work out of investing and help to manage financial risks. She is interested in helping clients attain their goals by never losing sight of the big picture.

Sherry believes that financial planning is a life-long, personal process that you create and adapt based on needs, values and unique situations. It is through such a process that clients can achieve success.

Sherry is a Chartered Mutual Fund Counselor (CMFC) and can offer investment advice to her clients.

Sherry has worked in the financial services profession since 1995. Prior to 1995, she taught school for 28 years.

Her unique approach centers largely on client education and interaction. This approach allows clients to be part of the team. Sherry utilizes her experience to develop strategies that focus on protecting assets from market volatility, customizing portfolios to match the individual goals and constraints, and assisting clients with life's many unknowns as they arise.

Sherry is a graduate of Calvin College, in Grand Rapids, MI, where she attained a degree in Education with a major in English.

Sherry and her husband, Stuart, reside in Grand Haven, MI, and enjoy traveling, reading and spending time with their grandchildren.
